-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the drawings provided in the Detailed Description of the invention should be removed and placed in the Drawings section.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 1 is rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim is narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

The claim is unclear in positively defining the structure of the invention. The claim states that the invention is unique in design, however, the claim fails to define any structural limitations relating to this design. The claim also states that the tool and marker will automatically be united in a golfer's pocket, however, it fails to define any structure besides the magnetic force that enables this arrangement.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Buckman (4,386,774).

Buckman discloses a device comprising a ball marker (7) and a divot tool (1). The tool includes a magnet (6) that magnetically attracts the ball marker (7) thereto. The device of Buckman will inherently create a force of magnetism between the ball marker and the tool wherein they will be attracted to one another when placed in a golfer's pocket.

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fazekas (5,733,208).

Fazekas discloses a golf tool comprising a ball marker (80) and a divot tool (40). The tool includes a magnet (74) therein that magnetically attracts the ball marker (80) thereto. The device of Fazekas will inherently create a force of magnetism between the ball marker and the tool wherein they will be attracted to one another when placed in a golfer's pocket.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Steven Wong whose telephone number is 571-272-4416. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday 8am-4:30pm.
